DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-62 are pending. Applicant's arguments and amendments filed 3/14/06 have been entered.

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-27, in the reply filed on 3/14/06 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that both sets of class and subclass for each of Group I and Group II would need to be examined for the particular compounds of interest. This is not found persuasive because the invention of Group I, which is drawn to a composition of matter is materially different and patentably distinct from the invention of Group II, which is drawn to a process for disinfecting a surface and would require a separate search due to its separate classification, thereby placing an undue burden on the Examiner. Note that, upon Applicant's election of the composition of Group I, the search for Group II (for example, class 422/28) would not be mandatory for the Examiner.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 28-62 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 3/14/06.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1751

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 1751

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 4, 5, 7, and 12-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by DE 1953920 or DE 1801713. Note that, the Examiner has requested translations of these documents from the STIC library.

'920 teaches a cleaning composition containing an activator as recited by the instant claims and a percompound such that the molar ratio of acyl groups in the activator to hydrogen peroxide is from 0.1 to 10. Additionally, the composition contains organic complexants, inorganic builders, surfactants, enzymes, corrosion inhibitors, dyes, perfumes, etc. See Abstract.

'713 teaches washing products containing the same nitrogen containing compounds as recited by the instant claims. The compounds may be used as bleaching agents. See Abstract.

'920 and '713 disclose the claimed invention with sufficient specificity to constitute anticipation.

Accordingly, the broad teachings of '920 and '713 anticipate the material limitations of the instant claims.

Claims 2, 3, 6, and 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 1953920 or DE 1801713.

'920 and '713 are relied upon as set forth above. However, neither reference teaches, with sufficient specificity the specific polyamino compound as recited by the instant claims.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to formulate the specific polyamino compound as recited by the instant claims, with a reasonable expectation of success, because the broad teachings of '920 or '713 suggest the specific polyamino compound as recited by the instant claims.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Remaining references cited but not relied upon are considered to be cumulative to or less pertinent than those relied upon or discussed above.

Applicant is reminded that any evidence to be presented in accordance with 37 CFR 1.131 or 1.132 should be submitted before final rejection in order to be considered timely.
